1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the various methods of determining the rate of growth of a population. The methods are classified into two main groups: (a) direct methods, and (b) indirect methods. The direct methods are those in which the rate of growth is determined by direct observation of the population. The indirect methods are those in which the rate of growth is determined by indirect observation of the population.

2. The second part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the various methods of determining the rate of growth of a population. 1. The first part of the paper discusses the importance of the study of the history of the United States. It is argued that the study of the history of the United States is essential for a full understanding of the country and its people. The paper then discusses the various methods used by historians to study the past, including the use of primary and secondary sources, and the importance of critical thinking in the study of history.
